The Positive Power of Doing

It's important to remember that people - not gizmos - get things done. With so many speakers extolling the power of positive thinking, this speech examines the real-life process of achieving more, accomplishing more, and "doing" more!

This talk may be presented as a 20-minute or 50-minute keynote address.

The Missing Link

We all strive for success in life; but for many, success is an elusive dream... something seems to be missing. This speech reveals the "Missing Link" that prevents so many from achieving all they want in life, and is for anyone who has struggled, or is struggling with life and the difficulties in obtaining success and happiness.

This talk may be presented as a 20-minute or 50-minute Keynote Address.

How To Be A Wild and Wonderful Speaker

It has been said, "The number one fear we all possess, is the fear of public speaking." Is public speaking a learned skill? Is there a way to overcome the fear?

This presentation reveals the 15 secrets to effective public speaking, and is designed as a 40 to 60 minute educational presentation or a half-day workshop.
